

New vendor at !

SES is excited to announce a new vendor partner, Legrand. We now offer our customers the most innovative home systems products available in today's market.

Built on a legacy of innovation, the Home Systems Division of Legrand (formerly On-Q/Legrand) offers products in the categories of infrastructure, entertainment, communications, and comfort. From high performance connectivity products and enclosures to award-winning intercom and multi-room audio systems, Legrand provides all the products you need to succeed in today's home systems marketplace.

In addition, Legrand's newest innovation, the Unity Home System, is now available from SES. Part of Legrand's Studio Collection, the Unity Home System combines the three most popular stand-alone systems in the industry - multi-room audio, intercom, and camera - to give users one integrated home system that's easily controlled via a powerful graphical user interface. And, because Unity is from Legrand, it's extremely easy to install, with plug-and-play connections and absolutely no programming.

To learn more about how to add Legrand's products to your offerings, just call us today or visit <http://www.legrand.us/OnQ.aspx>.

Best regards,

Your SES sales team
