

New Vendor at SES: Medical Alarm Concepts

SES is excited to announce a new vendor in the medical alarm technology industry... Medical Alarm Concepts.

The Medical Alarm Concepts management team has over 20 years combined experience in the Personal Emergency Response System industry and their patents are some of the oldest and strongest in the business. In fact, you may recognize the famous "Help, I've fallen" phrase that their chief engineer advisor, Nevin Jenkins, coined back in the inception of the PERS industry. Through the years, they have positioned themselves as true innovators and pioneers of medical alarm technology.

Medical Alarm Concepts' MediPendant is a breakthrough concept in the industry. Being wireless, portable and convenient, it is the first medical alarm on the market today that allows the user to speak and listen to the operator directly through the pendant, all with the simple press of a button, 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. With their premier products, Medical Alarm Concepts allows a superior solution to the current PERS issues and gives end users more freedom and mobility than ever before.

Medical Alarm Concepts was built on two simple principles: to develop and manufacture state-of-the-art technology and to offer superior customer service to its end users and affiliates. To learn more about how MAC can benefit you today, visit their website at <http://www.medicalalarmconcepts.com>.

Best regards,
