

New Vendor at SES: Vanco

SES is excited to introduce a new vendor partner – Vanco International.

Vanco International is a leading supplier of progressive home theater and low voltage electronic accessories. With more than 50 years in the electronics accessories industry, Vanco has planted its roots as a provider of high quality audio, video, mobile, and CB accessories. Delivery was provided by the company van directly to the distributor and dealer locations throughout the Midwest, hence the name ‘Vanco.’

Today, although Vanco no longer uses the regional distribution “van” concept, Vanco remains committed to the customer, demanding high quality and innovative product development combined with impeccable customer service. Vanco’s distributor base has grown to include the United States and Canada with service to nine different channels of distribution; including the low voltage distribution and home theater markets.

Vanco draws upon their extensive electronic experience to create and develop innovative, proprietary electronic accessory products. Vanco is committed to providing leading edge electronic accessories with impeccable service.

For more information on Vanco and their product line, call us today or visit <http://www.vanco1.com/>.

Best regards,

Your SES sales team

